Activists plastered hundreds of suspected Covid "vaccine" injuries and deaths onto the doors and windows of the CBC building on Front St. early this morning.

The CBC, Canada's taxpayer-funded media corporation, has been charged by many to be complicit in propagandist lies over the safety of the experimental gene therapies.

Without any critical investigation, the CBC and other mainstream media outlets continue to push the "safe and effective narrative" in spite of overwhelming evidence of catastrophic and unprecedented levels of adverse events.

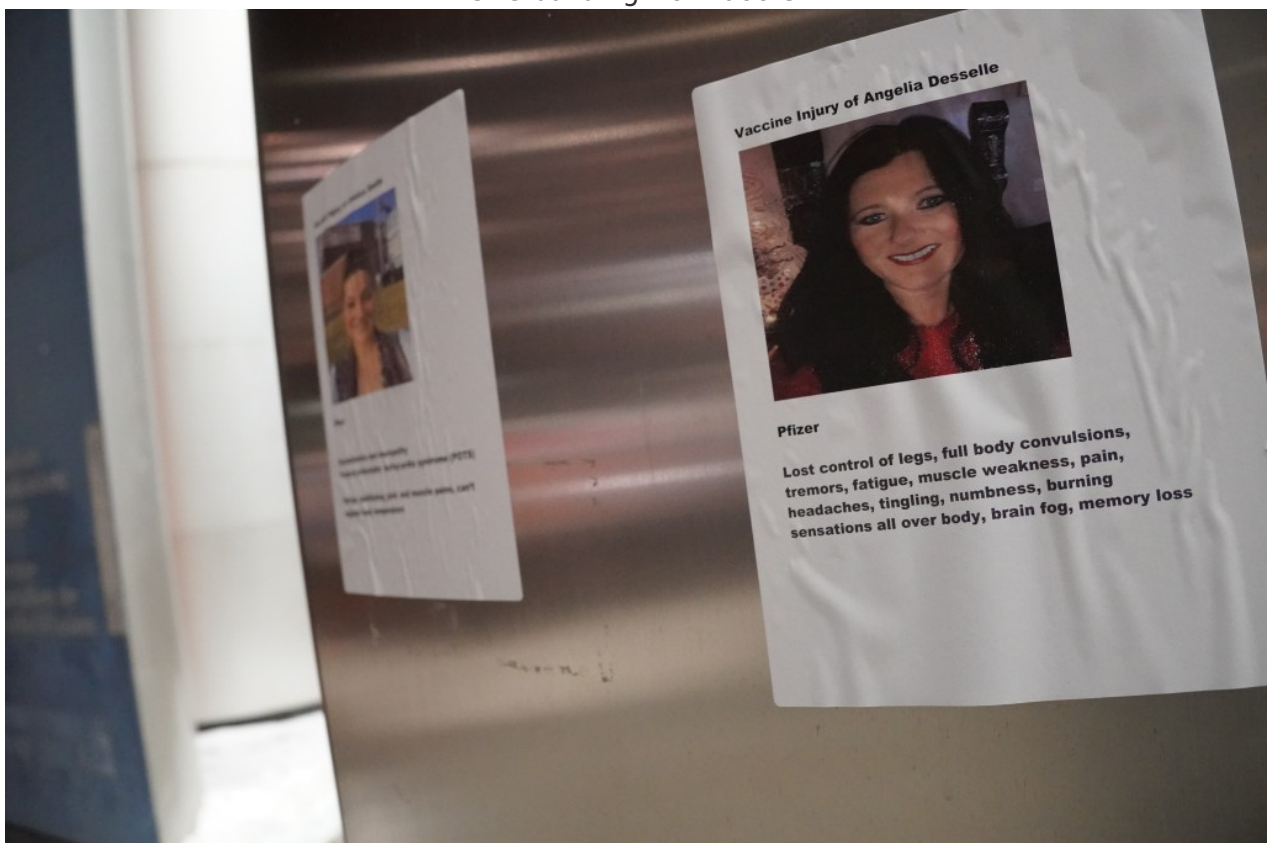

Seeking to bring attention to the injuries and deaths temporally related to Covid-19 "vaccines," the activists worked feverishly to get the profiles up. Security guards were present but did not intervene.

Special report coming soon.
