In March of 2021, my wife (Anita), an active-duty member of the Navy, and I (Mike), a former Marine, found out we were expecting our first child. We were overjoyed and eagerly awaited the arrival of our son, Homer. However, on Christmas day of the same year, our world came crashing down when Homer was stillborn via caesarean. The loss of our son was devastating, and Anita suffered several post-surgery complications, which further added to our pain.

The following year was a blur of grief and healing. Despite everything, we were determined to start a family and try for a second child. After months of trying, we discovered that we were experiencing "unexplained secondary infertility." Devastated but not defeated, we turned to IVF as our best hope for becoming parents.

As a military family, we have dedicated our lives to serving our country, and we now turn to our family and friends for support in fulfilling our dream of becoming parents. Any contribution, no matter how small, will bring us one step closer to our goal. We thank you in advance for your kindness, generosity, and for being a part of our journey.

Five days later on Oct. 9 her baby wasn't moving as usual and U/S found baby had a brain hemorrhage. She suffered a stillbirth on Oct. 16, 2021.

Stephanie Whitmore: pregnant Australia woman's baby suffers in utero brain bleed, stillborn 12 days after mother's second Pfizer mRNA injection

BRISBANE, QUEENSLAND — A 33-year-old woman chronicled her entire pregnancy on Instagram, eagerly anticipating the birth of her first child in October.

January 12, 2022 · admin

I was Pro 🙄, I spoke to all the doctors and got medical advice on what was the safest most responsible action to take in order to keep my family and baby safe. This story is the result of professional medical doctors.

I got the first 📌🙄 on the 13th of September, I was 32 weeks pregnant, and I didn't have any reactions whatsoever, I just continued with life as usual.

I had the second 🙄 on the 4th October, I was 37 weeks pregnant, my baby was healthy and perfect through the entire course of my pregnancy and she was due any time now. 2 days after my second 🙄, I had a pre natal appointment. My baby was in the right position and I was told everything everything was fine.

On the 9th October I noticed my baby wasn't moving the way she usually would and a few days later I went in for an ultrasound and they found an Intraventricular Haemorrhage in my baby's brain. Which meant she had a blood clot.

My little butterfly, you flew so high that now you are beside Jesus looking at us. My angel, you came to transform our lives. No words can describe the pain that I am feeling right now because I miss you so much my sweet heart. I know you are in a better place and one day me and daddy will meet you in the heaven. Everything happens for a reason and I can't understand now the reason that you are not with me, but I trust God and I know He has his perfect plans for us. Bella my love, I promise you that I will be always close to you and praying for our Father Jesus to look after you.

My beautiful daughter I love you so much, I would do everything to have you in my arms. I miss everything about you my darling. I miss our connection, I miss your kicks inside me, I miss the dreams and plans that I had for us. I miss what we haven't lived but I am glad you showed me what is love. 9 months of pure love. Goodbye for now my love, we will meet you again soon. Rest in Peace. 🦋💔

stephanie.whitmore Letter to Isabella 16/11/2021

My little butterfly,

It has been a month since you went to heaven and you've changed our hearts forever. Today, we see how blessed we were with the 37 weeks that you were with us. During our time together, you brought so much joy and love to our lives.

Mammy and daddy had everything ready for your arrival. Your nursery, your beautiful dresses and headbands, we changed our routine and made plans for you to feel welcomed in our lives. In this 1 month, we discovered the real and concrete power that the prayer of each one of our friends and family makes in our lives because it was through it that we were able to understand the Grace that worked in our lives and is keeping us going.

Britney Willetts is organizing this fundraiser.

Hi everyone,

As you probably know on Sept 19 2023, I went into labor. When we got to the hospital they did an ultrasound and could not find our daughters heartbeat. I was in active labor for about 10 ish hours until I finally gave birth to our little girl Rune Francis Barnett, who was stillborn. It was the happiest/worst day of our lives. We don't know what happened exactly, but an autopsy was done and hopefully we get some answers soon. I started this gofundme due to the fact that neither one of us have been able to work since this happened. We are behind

Hi, we are Shaquanna and Derick Flores as most of you know on on September 18, 2023 at 10:46pm we lost our son due to being Stillborn, this is definitely an unexpected tragedy our hearts are completely broken, the pain I feel is completely unbearable and trying to get money to get an autopsy that the hospital keeps trying to deny me and pay for memorial services on top of that is even more stressful! We haven't been able to grieve in peace with all the negativity of the hospital staff! So Right now I'm asking if you all can reach into your hearts and donate and help us find out what went wrong and put out lovely baby boy to rest, it will forever be appreciated! Thank You in Advance!

Sep. 17, 2023 - Chicago, IL - Gabrielle MD Shepherd had a normal and healthy pregnancy at 38wk and 5 days, two days later there was "no heartbeat is being detected". Stillbirth.

Kairo Nehemiah's family

Myiti Rice is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Gabrielle MD Shepherd.

From the family of Baby Kairo, we thank you for your extended love and condolences during this time. As you continue to pray, we ask if you find it in your heart to support Kameron and Gabrielle monetarily during this time of grieving, we thank you in advance. The donations will be used to help the daily monetary stressors of life in hopes to aid the parents from a temporary leave from work while they heal, cope and grieve the passing of their baby boy.

Our Angel Kairo Nehemiah Rice:

9/17/23 was the most terrifying, devastating and unseen tragedies that we ever had to endure. Coming to the hospital to what we thought would be a normal check in on our unborn son, turned to be a nightmare. After trying and trying, different nurses, doctors and ultrasound technicians, we were told "no heartbeat is being detected". Which was an absolute shock because going from having a perfectly normal and healthy pregnancy at 38wks and 5days and having a C-section already scheduled just 2 days away, we were in total despair. Those are words no parents wants to hear and the reality of knowing you have to deliver your "stillborn" child is nothing short of traumatizing.

Addison Blair Hayes Memorial Fund

 Bekah Witten is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Michelle Hayes.

On August 22, 2023, 9 days before her due date, Addison Blair Hayes was delivered stillborn at 2:53 AM. 6 pounds, 11 ounces, the sweetest button nose, a thick head of dark hair, inch-long toes, and a face just like her brother's. Her nursery is decorated with beige and mauve rainbows, and she came into the world on National Rainbow Baby Day. Addison is the third child of Shelly and Tony Hayes, and their first girl. We were all so excited to meet and spoil her. Emmett and Oliver, her older brothers, were already fighting over who would be the best big brother. There are no words to describe the hole Addie's absence has left in her family's heart.

As of today August 24, 2023, we have no answers as to what stole Addie from us. She was perfectly healthy up until the moment she wasn't.

Hello everyone. My name is 'Nana' and I'd like you all to meet Romello "Roe" Davis. Im 26 years old and i just had birth to my Stillborn baby boy at Jackson Memorial Hospital July 19, 2023. 38weeks I carried him with no signs of any problems. Strong heart beat, at my first 'late' ultrasound at 9 to 10 weeks. In desperate need of help to pay for his cremation. I had to go on maternity leave on May 30, so my income right now is just pitiful. I was just accepting the fact that I was carrying a life, my child life whom i realized I loved. My baby's beautiful peaceful body is still at the morgue at Jackson Hospital. The mortician can't get in contact with my doctors and nurses to confirm the paper work for his autopsy to be done for me to know why this tragedy is happening to me and my innocent newly life. Hi people . I'm Vickie...the Granny to Angel Baby Jason Lance Holloway Jr. He was such a beautiful healthy 8 lb 8 oz baby boy stillborn 07/10/2023 who just had to go be with his grandfathers .While giving birth his mom flatlined and is still in critical condition in ICU. We were really not expecting such a tragedy and literally have no funds for a funeral so we are asking for donations to be paid to Murray Orwosky funeral home for taking care of our final wishes for baby boy. Any left over funds will be used for expenses for mom and dad to travel and lodge while attending seervices.We are truly grateful for any amount you can donate for this tragic life event. May God bless all of the angels on earth that find it in their hearts to contribute. You can also donate by sending a payment to he funeral home directly c/o Jason Lance Holloway Jr.

June 18, 2023 - Chester, VT - Kristen McMillen had a normal pregnancy up to her due date at 40 weeks. Baby's heartbeat stopped on the due date.

Christopher McMillen is organizing this fundraiser.

Hello my friends and family. As many of you may already know, a year ago Kristen and I started a journey to become parents. It was a hard battle right off the bat as we needed to do an IUI procedure in order for Kristen to get pregnant. I am not fertile... Something that I'm not happy about. As such, the only way for it to work is IVF. Meaning that the Doctors will be pulling viable Sperm from me and then collecting eggs from Kristen that will later be

As the months went by our excitement grew. Our little Girl was growing strong and we were so eager to meet her. Ultrasound pictures just don't do it. I needed to see her beautiful little face. Doctor visit after doctor visit, the days were getting closer and closer to the Due date.

Due date came, Kristen noticed that Juniper wasn't moving as much as she normally does so we wanted to use our Fetal Monitor to hear her little heartbeat... We were not able to find it. We have never had this issue before. Changed batteries, used a stethoscope, nothing was working. We made the call to go into the hospital to understand what was happening. Nurses used their heart monitors and were also unable to find a heartbeat. Doctors came in after and using an Ultrasound confirmed our worst nightmare. We had lost our beautiful baby girl. She made it all the way to her due date. The devastation. This was just the news, however. Kristen still needed to deliver. Full well knowing that she would be giving birth to a stillborn. I stood by Kristen's side through the entire process giving words of encouragement and love. Juniper was born on Father's Day at 11:21pm at 8 lbs 10 oz and 19 inches long. The most beautiful thing I have ever seen in my life. I knew immediately that if she were alive, that I was going to have a hard time letting go of her. I was obsessed.

I woke to the barely there contractions of early labour. It was a few days before my due date in my second pregnancy – a pregnancy seemingly without complications. The Fisher bag was out and my hospital bag packed; everything was ready for our baby boy to arrive. He was kicking as normal. As the day went on, my contractions remained mild and far apart. I kept to the plan discussed with our doctor: stay at home as long as possible, no rushing to the Labor and Delivery. So I took our 5 year old daughter, Arielle, for a walk with a friend and we collected snacks from the neighborhood convenience store. We read a short story, and a 10 minute Peppa Pig clip in YouTube at Arielle's bedtime, the baby kicked hard, as if he had done most days, as if he recognised the song, he acted as if he knew our routine. Not long after, a shiver went through me. Something felt wrong. The baby's movements had slowed. I called the number for our community midwives. Had I tried drinking something cold, eating the things that made him kick, the midwife asked. I had, but I tried again while on the phone. Nothing. She told me to go to my hospital, Rapids Regional in south Monroe, Louisiana, and to explain I had hardly felt the baby move for a while.

I do remember the words. "Your baby's heart has stopped." Another doctor came in, scanned and told me the same. I refused to believe it. I asked the doctors to restart his heart. It couldn't stop beating while he was still attached, surely? I'm alive, so he must be, I said. Get him out, save him. "It doesn't work like that," the doctor said. "He's died." He was delivered on the morning of Saturday June 10, 2023. He had died at some point on the Friday and was stillborn. We called him Finn. The midwife I had

The Worldwide Corona Crisis, Global Coup d'Etat Against Humanity

by Michel Chossudovsky

Michel Chossudovsky reviews in detail how this insidious project “destroys people’s lives”. He provides a comprehensive analysis of everything you need to know about the “pandemic” — from the medical dimensions to the economic and social repercussions, political underpinnings, and mental and psychological impacts.

“My objective as an author is to inform people worldwide and refute the official narrative which has been used as a justification to destabilize the economic and social fabric of entire countries, followed by the imposition of the “deadly” COVID-19 “vaccine”. This crisis affects humanity in its entirety: almost 8 billion people. We stand in solidarity with our fellow human beings and our children worldwide. Truth is a powerful instrument.”

Reviews

In this war against humanity in which we find ourselves, in this singular, irregular and massive assault against liberty and the goodness of people, Chossudovsky’s book is a rock upon which to sustain our fight. —Dr. Emanuel Garcia

In fifteen concise science-based chapters, Michel traces the false covid pandemic, explaining how a PCR test, producing up to 97% proven false positives, combined with a relentless 24/7 fear campaign, was able to create a worldwide panic-laden “plandemic”; that this plandemic would never have been possible without the infamous DNA-modifying Polymerase Chain Reaction test – which to this day is being pushed on a majority of innocent people who have no clue. His conclusions are evidenced by renown scientists. —Peter Koenig

Professor Chossudovsky exposes the truth that “there is no causal relationship between the virus and economic variables.” In other words, it was not COVID-19 but, rather, the deliberate implementation of the illogical, scientifically baseless lockdowns that caused the shutdown of the global economy. —David Skripac
