Global Research, September 29, 2021

Dear Readers,

In response to last week's donation and membership campaign, we can now say that Global Research is no longer "in Troubled Waters".

Our readers have thrown us a lifeline in the form of a donation or a membership subscription, allowing us to patch up and sail onwards.

Our readership has expanded. Despite media censorship, we are now navigating at more than 100 thousand page views a day.

We are living in the midst of a Worldwide crisis which threatens fundamental human rights and freedom of expression.

We have published extensively on these issues. We have also expanded our video productions.

At this juncture, we must ensure that truth in media and freedom of expression prevail.

To reach out to a broad readership Worldwide, the referral of Global Research articles is fundamental, through sharing, forwarding, posting on blog sites as well as crossposting.

If you are in a position to donate 5-10 minutes of your day, we would be forever grateful. Here are some ways you could help:

- Establish an email list of some fifty friends and family and forward the daily Global Research Newsletter and/or your favourite Global Research articles to this list on a daily basis.
- Use the various instruments of online posting and social media creatively to "spread the word". Click the "like" and "share" buttons on our articles' pages for starters. Help keep our articles circulating.
- Post one or more Global Research articles on your blogs as well as internet discussion groups to build a dialogue around our coverage. Submit Global Research articles on independent media and partner websites.
- Do you have friends who would benefit from our articles? Consider encouraging them to sign up for our newsletter (click here for sign-up form).

- Are you part of a community group or organized webinar discussion group? Submit a topic we have covered or a specific article from our website for discussion at your next webinar meeting.
