

Global Research Referral Campaign

By The Global Research Team

Global Research, September 22, 2022

For over 21 years of operation as an independent media organization, we've never felt the effects of censorship as detrimental as in the last three years. Apart from the ban on social media, our website has also been excluded in external search engine results — all equally affecting our readership and worldwide reach.

Amid all the struggles we've encountered, it remains our objective to maintain our independence, accepting neither corporate nor government funding. Yet the clock is ticking.

Is Global Research helpful in your understanding of world events and politics? Do you believe that we are a valuable source of information? Do we connect you to other useful independent media outlets and journalists?

If so, we need your help to keep us afloat. In this referral campaign, our ask is for you to do any of the following:

- If you have blog sites, crosspost Global Research articles;
- Forward Global Research articles through email and other communication apps;
- Share Global Research articles on social media and discussion groups;
- Stay updated with important world events, subscribe to our newsletter and encourage family, friends and colleagues to do the same.

It is our hope to continue our mission until genuine peace is on the horizon. Until then, let us work together.

If you have the means, you can also help us stay afloat through donation and membership.
