25 October 2011

Great news – as of today, Global Research has passed a milestone with a total of 25,759 subscribers to our e-mail newsletter! This is very encouraging indeed. It means that over 25,000 readers worldwide have seen the need to stay informed on the pressing issues of our times by taking advantage of this free service from Global Research.

To that end, the Global Research feature article sendouts cover a broad range of topics, from the global economic crisis spanning the globe, to the NATO-led wars being waged for profit under the false pretext of “humanitarianism”.□

Thanks to feedback on our readers’ preferences, we also occasionally send selected article lists on hot topics (covering themes such as “Afghanistan: America’s 9/11 War”), notices about important upcoming events, special sneak previews into books published through Global Research, and reports on our activities and how our readers can support our endeavours to break through mainstream media lies.

So far, over 25,000 have confirmed their commitment to increasing awareness, and for this we send our thanks and appreciation!

Now we are putting forth a challenge to our readers: between now and the end of 2011, we have set the goal of increasing our newsletter subscriber list by 10,000! If you appreciate the information you receive from Global Research and believe that others would benefit from reading independent news untainted by corporate agendas, then help us spread the word!

Start by forwarding this e-mail to three or four friends and let them know that there are alternatives to mainstream media.

Discuss world events with your friends, family and colleagues and tell them you know where to go for the real news, and that they can also have free access to this critical information.

Add us on Facebook and encourage others to participate.

Show that you refuse to be deceived about the state of the world we live in!

Taking this initiative doesn’t cost you anything; the benefit, however, is that more people will become exposed to real, independent news, leading to greater awareness of the sociopolitical processes shaping our world, and thereby strengthening the fight against media lies and disinformation. It's simple, quick and more necessary now than ever before.

We remind you that we never share our mailing list with third parties – what you sign up for is the Global Research newsletter, and that's all! And every newsletter has a Safe Unsubscribe link that you can click anytime to remove your address from our list, though we hope you will find it a valuable resource and choose to stay informed!

Help us reach our goal of 10,000 new subscribers by the end of this year! Give 10,000 people the gift of information!
