

Israel Continues to Attack Hospitals in Gaza, Killing at Least 8

At least eight Palestinians killed and dozens wounded in Israeli attacks on the Nasser Medical Complex in Gaza City.

By Abdelhakim Abu Riash

Global Research, November 08, 2023

Al Jazeera 7 November 2023

Region: Middle East & North Africa

Theme: Intelligence, Law and Justice

In-depth Report: PALESTINE

All Global Research articles can be read in 51 languages by activating the Translate Website button below the author's name.

To receive Global Research's Daily Newsletter (selected articles), click here.

Click the share button above to email/forward this article to your friends and colleagues. Follow us on Instagram and Twitter and subscribe to our Telegram Channel. Feel free to repost and share widely Global Research articles.

Israeli warplanes have continued to attack hospitals in Gaza City.

After another communication and network blackout on Sunday, the Nasser Medical Complex, which has four hospitals, suffered indirect and direct hits from Israeli missiles.

According to the Palestinian health ministry, at least eight Palestinians were killed in the attacks and dozens were wounded.

The medical complex contained the Al-Nasser Children's Hospital, the Rantisi Specialised Hospital, the Eye Hospital and the Psychiatric Hospital.

"The [Israeli] army called some of our staff that night and said they will create a fire belt around the hospital," Suleiman Qaoud, a doctor at the Rantisi Hospital said.

At about 6:30pm (16:30 GMT), Israeli warplanes hit the area between the Psychiatric Hospital and the Rantisi hospital wounding 35 people, including some of the medical staff. Two hours later, the Rantisi hospital was hit as well as its southeast and northeast sides.

A children's cancer ward is located on the northeast side of the hospital, Qaoud said.

"More than 30 children were receiving chemotherapy treatment there," he said.

The hospital was then attacked for a third time with strikes hitting the grounds where ambulances and other vehicles were parked and where displaced families had taken shelter.

"We have between 80 and 100 patients, and 700 displaced families - that is about 5,000 people,” Qaoud said.

“The solar panels and water tanks were also targeted, meaning that the Rantisi hospital does not have a single drop of running water,” he said.

The attacks on the hospital forced Rabaa al-Radee to take her sick granddaughter, Sidra, for treatment elsewhere. Sidra has cancer and broke her leg in an accident while fleeing from Israeli bombing that hit the school where they were sheltering.

“We got to Kamal Adwan Hospital but they told us to come to the Rantisi hospital instead,” Rabaa said. “Now. the Rantisi is telling us to go to the Shifa Hospital but there are no ambulances or cars on the road.”

At least 16 of the 35 hospitals in Gaza are out of service and 51 of 72 primary healthcare clinics in the besieged enclave have shut down completely.

The Psychiatric Hospital, the only one of its kind in the Gaza Strip, is also no longer able to treat its patients.

“We would take in 50 to 70 patients a day, from those coming to get their medicine to those who came to be treated for psychological trauma due to the sound of constant bombing,” said Jamil Suleiman, the general director of the Psychiatric Hospital.

“Body wounds can heal but psychological wounds are much deeper and need psychiatric treatment,” he said.

If Gaza’s hospitals continue to be attacked, there is no need for the United Nations Security Council or the World Health Organization, Suleiman added.

“If there is no guarantee for a patient’s rights, then there is no point having an international health body just witnessing a population getting slaughtered,” he said.

“Maybe if we were animals, then we’d have our rights.”

The Nasser Medical Complex contains the Al-Nasser Children's Hospital, the Rantisi Specialised Hospital, the Eye Hospital and the Psychiatric Hospital. [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

A nurse inspects the rooftop of the Rantisi Specialist Hospital for children, which was hit three times along with its solar panels and water tanks. [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

In addition to treating between 80 and 100 patients, the Rantisi hospital is also hosting some 700 families who have been displaced from their homes. [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

Fida al-Wuheidi and her baby daughter Masa were referred to the Rantisi hospital but had yet to been seen by a doctor. [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

Rabaa al-Radee said she is unable to move her granddaughter Sidra, who has cancer and a broken leg, to the Shifa Hospital due to the lack of ambulances and cars on the damaged roads in Gaza.
[Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

Since October 7, the Israeli offensive has put at least 16 of Gaza's 35 hospitals out of service.
[Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

The children's cancer ward in the Rantisi hospital was damaged by Israeli missiles. [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

Jamil Suleiman, the director-general of the Psychiatric Hospital, surveys the area where four people were killed in an Israeli air raid. [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

The Psychiatric Hospital treats between 50 and 70 patients per day, including those who have been left traumatised by the Israeli bombardment of Gaza. [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

On November 6, Israeli air attacks hit the grounds of the Rantisi Specialist Hospital where displaced families have taken shelter and ambulances are parked. [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

Note to readers: Please click the share button above. Follow us on Instagram and Twitter and subscribe to our Telegram Channel. Feel free to repost and share widely Global Research articles.

Featured image: Dr Suleiman Qaoud surveys the damage at the Rantisi Specialist Hospital, part of the Nasser Medical Complex in Gaza City, following Israeli missile attacks on November 6, 2023 [Abdelhakim Abu Riash/Al Jazeera]

The original source of this article is Al Jazeera
Copyright © Abdelhakim Abu Riash, Al Jazeera, 2023

Comment on Global Research Articles on our Facebook page

Become a Member of Global Research

Articles by: Abdelhakim Abu Riash

Disclaimer: The contents of this article are of sole responsibility of the author(s). The Centre for Research on Globalization will not be responsible for any inaccurate or incorrect statement in this article. The Centre of Research on Globalization grants permission to cross-post Global Research articles on community internet sites as long the source and copyright are acknowledged together with a hyperlink to the original Global Research article. For publication of Global Research articles in print or other forms including commercial internet sites, contact: publications@globalresearch.ca www.globalresearch.ca contains copyrighted material the use of which has not always been specifically authorized by the copyright owner. We are making such material available to our readers under the provisions of "fair use" in an effort to advance a better understanding of political, economic and social issues. The material on this site is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving it for research and educational purposes. If you wish to use copyrighted material for purposes other than "fair use" you must request permission from the copyright owner.

For media inquiries: publications@globalresearch.ca