Thursday, May 7 – Mike Farrell

Friday, May 8 – Michael Hudson

Time: 10AM US Central time

Michael Parenti is an internationally known political scientist and award-winning author and lecturer. His many books include Democracy for the Few in its 8th edition, Superpatriotism, Inventing Reality on the state of the media, and his newest work, Contrary Notions: The Michael Parenti Reader.

Parenti is also one of the nation's leading progressive political analysts, social critics, and anti-war activists. Discussion will focus on the new administration, the global economic crisis, and his recent Global Research article, Capitalism's Self-Inflicted Apocalypse.

He's also a prolific author of hundreds of articles and dozens of books.

Discussion will focus on the Obama administration's first 100 days in the context of the global economic crisis.

Marjorie Cohn is a distinguished law Professor at Thomas Jefferson School of Law, San Diego, and is currently President of the National Lawyers Guild. She's also been a criminal defense attorney at the trial and appellate levels, is a noted author, and has written numerous articles for professional journals and popular web sites.

Her new book just out is titled Rules of Disengagement: The Politics and Honor of Military Dissent.

Discussion will focus on her book and current world and national issues.

Mike Farrell is a noted activist, author, and actor, best known for his role in the TV series *M*A*S*H*. Today he's a regular lecturer on progressive issues, including human rights and his opposition to imperial wars, torture, poverty, and the death penalty.

In addition to his biography, Just Call Me Mike: A Journey to Actor and Activist, Farrell's new book is titled Of Mule and Man. It's an account of his cross-country book tour and his observations, encounters, presentations, and conversations along the way.

Discussion will focus on his book and progressive activism.

Michael Hudson has had a long, varied, and distinguished career as a Wall Street insider, leading economist, expert on financial history, and Research Professor at the University of Missouri. He's also an author, consultant, head of a Harvard-based economic and financial history group, and president of the Institute for the Study of Long Term Economic Trends (INSLET).

Hudson is a fierce critic of Washington's banker bailouts and the criminal element in charge. He recently wrote two articles on the financial war against Iceland and its recent April 25 election.

Discussion will focus on Iceland's plight in the context of the global economic crisis
