A Maryland healthcare worker who had just accepted a job with the prestigious Johns Hopkins Hospital reportedly died after receiving a Covid-19 vaccine required for employment.

Appearing skeptical, 45-year-old mom Robin Spring Saunders wrote on social media that she received her first jab on June 21 and that it was mandated by her place of work.

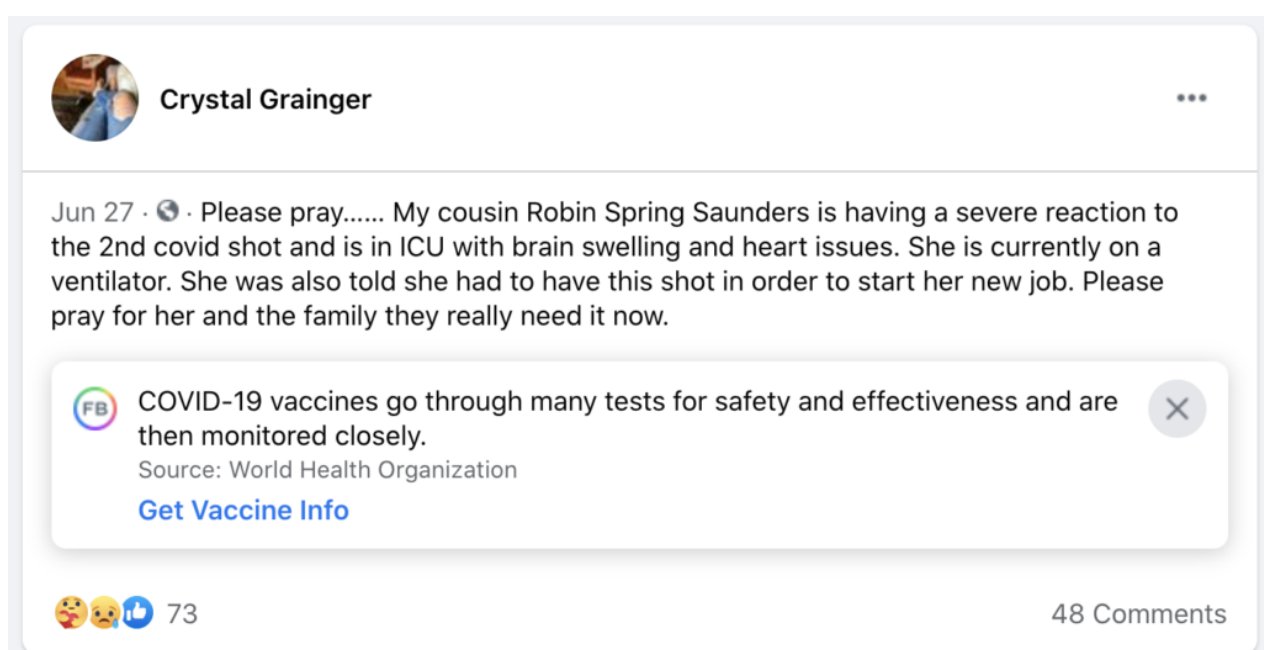

"I never thought I'd get a Covid shot but I got my first one today," a post from Saunders stated. "Unfortunately my job requires it."

In a Facebook update, Robin's mom asked for prayers for her daughter after she suffered a reaction to the vaccine and was in the hospital ICU.

“Johns Hopkins told her she had to have the shot to start her new job,” her mom wrote.

Robin’s cousin Crystal wrote on Facebook that Robin had had her “2nd covid shot,” which would have spaced the two doses out by mere days, and that she was “in the ICU with brain swelling and heart issues.”

"She is currently on a ventilator," Crystal wrote. "She was also told she had to have this shot in order to start her new job."

Other family members also desperately asked for prayers, and noted that she may have had her "2nd covid shot."

Posts did not note whether Robin received either the Pfizer or Moderna vaccine.

According to a post later that day from Saunders' daughter, however, her condition took a turn for the worst and she died in the ICU.

Robin Spring Saunders For those who know my mom and the beautiful person she was ❤️❤️ I am extremely heartbroken to inform everyone that she is no longer with us. At 252 today she left us. She was in no pain. I really don't know how I'm doing this. I am completely lost and still in a bit of shock. To those who knew her and loved her thank you very much for making her a part of your life. I hope she touched you all like she did her family and the ones closest to her. There will be a viewing and funeral. When it has been arranged I will post on her page the details. If anyone close to her has anything they would like to share like pictures with her or questions than you are more then welcome to message me on here.

Rip mom I love you and miss you so much. You left us way too soon. ❤️❤️😭😭

At least one commenter on Facebook advised the family to seek legal help, as it remains to be seen if the hospital will be held liable.

I'm sorry about your mom. I went to high school with her. Make sure you call a lawyer. Based on her earlier post her job required the Covid shot that it seems she passed from. This may fall under Worker's Comp.
