July 19, 2023 – Peabody, MA – 40 year old Police Officer Henry Breckenridge died suddenly on July 19, 2023 from complications that arose from a “non-emergency” surgery.

Today, with a tremendously heavy heart and true sadness, I must share news of the tragic and sudden passing of Officer Henry Breckenridge. Despite the heroic efforts of Salem Hospital staff, Henry did not survive complications that arose from a non-emergency surgery.

Henry was one of the nicest and most gentle people I have had the honor to know. I know that sentiment is shared throughout our department and with the entire Peabody community. Henry was an outstanding police officer with firm grasp on community policing and as a dedicated member of our team, he will be greatly missed. He was well regarded by all sectors of our community, but particularly by our young citizens. There has been an outpouring of support and tributes in his honor from many young people whose lives he has impacted in a positive way. These are testaments to the caliber of his character which include authenticity, kindness, and compassion.

The photo I am sharing was taken by community member Cheryl Millard, fondly known as Peabody's Picture Lady. She told us this morning, that just before snapping this picture, she had asked Henry to push his hat back a little so she could see his eyes and that prompted laughter and his trademark smile that we will forever remember.

The Breckenridge family is devastated and Henry's brothers and sisters in law enforcement support them and share in their grief. We will all need to pull together and lean on each other during this difficult time.

Respectfully,

Kiwi motorcycle racer Damon Rees has died in the UK following a medical event.

The 28-year-old from Bay of Plenty had been in intensive care in Hull Hospital after the medical event, which was not related to racing.

His wife Talia Rees confirmed his passing on social media, saying: "I am heartbroken. I love you Damon Rees – you are now my guardian angel."

Hey all 🙏
Talia here again.

A bit of an update on Damon. He's still critical but stable. Good news is that he is in far better condition than where he was at this morning.

We were very, very close to losing him.

While surgery this morning didn't give any definitive answers as to why he is so poorly, it did allow them to release the massive pressure his abdomen was under, and he is responding well to the relief! He's not out of the woods yet, but he is a warrior and he's doing an incredible job at fighting this battle. He's been surrounded by so many amazing friends & family today and we can tell he is responding positively to the love & support.

I have screenshotted all your story mentions & well wishes and I can't wait to show them to him once he is better. Thank you all for your support - but please acknowledge that we are still amidst a very tough time for us all so we appreciate the space.

Keep believing & praying - it's working, and soon he will be our miracle ❤️

Aug. 22, 2022 – 48 year old Keith Carrington, beloved Principal at North Division High School and Security Guard for the Milwaukee Bucks, died suddenly of sepsis while recovering from foot surgery.

NEXT:

MILWAUKEE (CBS 58) -- A Milwaukee widow told CBS 58 her husband's death will be investigated by the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) nearly six months after he died unexpectedly at Ascension Columbia St. Mary's Hospital.

"I believe that my husband paid the ultimate price, which was his life, in his visit to Columbia St. Mary's," Tanzanique Carrington said.

Keith Carrington, a beloved principal at North Division High School and a security guard for the Milwaukee Bucks at Fiserv Forum, died in August 2022 while recovering from surgery.

"Keith was an extraordinary guy," Tanzanique Carrington said. "We just had such an outpouring of love from the community after he passed away because it was so sudden that people just couldn't believe it."

Carrington told CBS 58 she decided to file a complaint with DHS after reading investigative journalism reports on issues within the hospital where her husband died, the same issues she said she noticed during their time in Ascension's care.

"I knew something was not right," Carrington said.

Carrington said her husband was admitted to Ascension Columbia St. Mary's Hospital in August for foot surgery by recommendation of a podiatrist.

"There were red flags from the time that Keith actually entered the emergency room at the hospital," Carrington said.

Carrington said the hospital appeared to be short-staffed and she felt parts of her husband's treatment went overlooked.

She told CBS 58 the surgery went well, but problems persisted in his post-operative care.

On the day Keith Carrington died, Tanzanique Carrington said he was feeling a fever coming on, but otherwise appeared to be recovering well.

Carrington said she got her husband up to use the restroom and when he came out, he was having trouble breathing. His heart stopped minutes later.

Tanzanique Carrington said her husband's death certificate lists his cause of death as septic shock.

Carrington said she believes the health care professionals at Ascension Columbia St. Mary's Hospital missed the warning signs of the fatal condition.

Carrington told CBS 58 DHS responded to her complaint on Friday, letting her know an investigation would be initiated.

"It kind of validated my feeling that something was off," Carrington said.

My Take...

Cosmetic procedures are generally associated with increased risks of postoperative pulmonary embolism. (Kalmar et al)(Jiangwei Kong)

However, how does one explain sudden deaths of so many young people after a minor surgery?

I am seeing this same phenomenon in pregnant women during and shortly after giving birth. Sudden, unexpected deaths. Mostly blood clots but also cardiac arrests.

Doctors are NOT talking about this phenomenon.

I hypothesize that COVID-19 mRNA vaccinated individuals may be at significantly HIGHER risk of peri-operative and post-operative complications, most of which will be related to blood clotting problems that doctors are currently not recognizing.

UK government data (UK Dept of Work & Pensions) clearly shows skyrocketing blood clotting problems.

2022 Hematological Disabilities: +522%

- Blood clotting disorders +162%
- platelet disorders +221%
- Blood disorders +137%
