Scott Horton, the editorial director of the Antiwar website, has found further evidence that Hamas is an Israeli-controlled terror organization. Horton points to a recent post at the Israeli newspaper Haaretz. The article is locked up behind a paywall. However, it is posted on the Archive.org website.

During Netanyahu's fraud trial, writes Gidi Wewitz, the prime minister is quoted as declaring,

"Anyone who wants to thwart the establishment of a Palestinian state has to support bolstering Hamas and transferring money to Hamas," he told a meeting of his Likud party's Knesset members in March 2019. "This is part of our strategy—to isolate the Palestinians in Gaza from the Palestinians in the West Bank." (Emphasis added.)

“Anyone who wants to thwart the establishment of a Palestinian state has to support bolstering Hamas and transferring money to Hamas,” Netanyahu told his Likud party’s Knesset members in March 2019.
“This is part of our strategy”

In addition, Bibi admitted (and this is well-documented; see below) that Israel is in the business of undermining its neighbors.

“We have neighbors,” he said, “who are our bitter enemies ... I send them messages all the time ... these days, right now ... I mislead them, destabilize them, mock them, and then hit them over the head.” The suspect then continued his lecture: “It’s impossible to reach an agreement with them ... Everyone knows this, but we control the height of the flames.”

Livia Rokach’s Israel’s Sacred Terrorism, based on the personal diary of the second prime minister of Israel, Moshe Sharett, reveals how Israel “never seriously believed in an Arab threat” and engaged in “aggressive policies and continuous acts of harassment” against its Arab neighbors.

Israel’s policy “in its most intimate particulars, is one of deliberate Israeli acts of provocation, intended to generate Arab hostility and thus to create pretexts for armed action and territorial expansion.”

Specifically, Israel has engaged in “Large- and small-scale military operations aimed at civilian populations across the armistice lines, especially in the Palestinian territories of the West Bank and Gaza,”

These operations had a double purpose: to terrorize the populations, and to create a permanent destabilization... New territorial conquests through war... Political as well as military efforts to bring about the liquidation of all Arab and Palestinian claims to Palestine... (and) Subversive operations designed to dismember the Arab world, defeat the Arab national movement, and create puppet regimes which would gravitate to the regional Israeli power.

David Ben-Gurion, Israel’s first prime minister, is quoted in the text as stating,

“I have been meditating on the long chain of false incidents and hostilities we have invented, and on the many clashes we have provoked which cost us so much blood, and on the violations of the law by our men—all of which brought grave disasters and determined the whole course of events and contributed to the security crisis.”

In 2002, United Press International correspondent Richard Sale wrote “Analysis: Hamas

history tied to Israel" after a suicide bombing on a crowded Jerusalem city bus, killing 19 people.

Israel and Hamas may currently be locked in deadly combat, but, according to several current and former U.S. intelligence officials, beginning in the late 1970s, Tel Aviv gave direct and indirect financial aid to Hamas over a period of years... One U.S. intelligence source who asked not to be named said... Hamas [was] being funded as a "counterweight" to the PLO.

According to Hassane Zerouky, writing for L'Humanité and Global Research, the Israeli military authority in charge of the civilian administration of the West Bank and Gaza allowed Palestinian Islamic groups to receive funding from abroad.

"The military authority was convinced that these activities would weaken both the PLO and the leftist organizations in Gaza." At the end of 1992, there were six hundred mosques in Gaza. Thanks to Israel's intelligence agency Mossad (Israel's Institute for Intelligence and Special Tasks) , the Islamists were allowed to reinforce their presence in the occupied territories. Meanwhile, the members of Fatah (Movement for the National Liberation of Palestine) and the Palestinian Left were subjected to the most brutal form of repression.

It would be naive to believe Israel's Mossad, Shin Bet (Shabak), and Aman (Military Intelligence Directorate) decided Hamas was no longer a valuable asset and thus discontinued its intelligence operations.

Recall the operating motto of Mossad: "For by deception thou shalt do war."

Finally, to reiterate, one needs to look no further than the remarks of PM Netanyahu to fully comprehend the Zionist plan for ethnically cleansing the Palestinians remains the primary objective of the Israeli apartheid state.
