

Note to Readers: Home Page Problems, Empty your Cache

By Global Research News

Global Research, May 17, 2015

Dear Global Research Reader,

In the course of the last week, we have revamped certain features of our website, with two menu bars at the top of the page.

This change was implemented , to enable readers to easily access themes and regions.

Other changes are contemplated in the course of this month.

In the process of these changes, the home page display was inadvertently no longer available.

If the home page does not display normally (i.e. you see an article instead of the home page), we suggest you empty your cache.

If the problem persists, kindly contact us,

Thanks for your understanding and support,

with best wishes,

for peace, social justice and truth in media

M.Ch.
