It's been apparent for decades that Big Pharma hates natural vitamins and supplements with a passion. They consider them competition, and so they induce the media, government and public health officials to malign vitamins in every way they can.

This is easy, because they give vast sums of cash to the media through advertising, fund politicians' campaigns, and provide rich, cushy jobs to cooperative public health officials when they leave government. And they fund scientists to run rigged studies intended to discredit vitamins and other natural treatments.

That's why we're always reading propaganda from the media and government that claim vitamins and supplements are ineffective and dangerous.

US health officials, with their eye on that sweet Pharma paycheck they will be getting in a few years, dutifully set the daily vitamin requirements (RDA) much lower than what is needed to maintain peak health and immunity. They are set at a level that will prevent you from dying but keep you highly susceptible to profitable illnesses, instead of a level that will maintain vigorous health. And, unfortunately, many other countries copy the US's RDA for their own populations, in the misguided belief that the US has the best science.

So, to use the disparaging language that the Pharma shills routinely use against advocates of natural health, Big Pharma and their confederates are “Nutrient Deniers.”

But it goes beyond that. They are also Immunity Deniers. Our immune systems, which are a marvel of engineering vastly more effective than anything invented by Pharma or the medical establishment, are increasingly the targets of their assaults.

Covid-19 is a perfect example, but far from the only one. Here we have a disease that 99.8% of infected people survive thanks to their immune systems. But that comforting fact must be denied or censored to promote fear and terror in the public mind, providing a justification for lockdowns, travel restrictions, and other unprecedented dictatorial measures to “keep us safe.”

With most people nutrient-deficient these days thanks to inadequate RDAs, poor diets, and food that is depleted of nutrients due to chemically based overfarming of the soil, it is remarkable, and a tribute to the Immune System, that so many of them recover from Covid regardless. They would probably never get sick in the first place, or even test positive on the highly inaccurate tests, if they maximized their immunity with proper nutrition, exercise, sleep, and by avoiding toxins, pollution, and stress.

Yet practically nowhere from official government authorities like the WHO or CDC, or most of the media, do we see suggestions to boost your immune system to fight the virus. Even though there is plenty of evidence that vitamins, especially D, C, A, B, E, probiotics and minerals like zinc, magnesium, iodine and selenium, given in strong doses, exercise and quality sleep boost your immunity.

Thomas E. Levy, MD, JD, writes:

“Vitamin C has been documented to readily cure all acute viral syndromes in which it has been adequately dosed. As the ultimate virucide, vitamin C has been documented to inactivate/destroy every virus against which it was tested in vitro (in the test tube). Similarly, vitamin C has consistently resolved nearly all acute viral infections in patients treated with sufficient doses.”

Dr. Joseph Mercola wrote:

“Dr. Andrew G. Weber, a pulmonologist and critical-care specialist affiliated with two Northwell Health facilities on Long Island, said his intensive-care patients with the coronavirus immediately receive 1,500 milligrams of intravenous vitamin C. Identical amounts of the powerful antioxidant are then re-administered three or four times a day, he said...The regimen is based on experimental treatments administered to people with the coronavirus in Shanghai, China...‘The patients who received vitamin C did significantly better than those who did not get vitamin C,’ he said. ‘It helps a tremendous amount, but it is not highlighted because it’s not a sexy drug.’”

Although forced by the huge number of Vitamin C studies to acknowledge that Vitamin C can boost the immune system, the NIH denies that this boost will help you fight Covid in any way. “There are insufficient data for the COVID-19 Treatment Guidelines Panel (the Panel) to recommend either for or against the use of vitamin C for the treatment of COVID-19 in [critically ill or] non-critically ill patients.” And, thanks to this rationale, IV vitamin C is not an approved treatment for Covid.

Internet Pharma shills, naturally, sing the same tune as the NIH. Arjun Walia notes:

“An article published by LiveScience, a mainstream science website, states that ‘Vitamin C is extremely unlikely to help people fight off the new coronavirus.’ This is the narrative that’s been portrayed by multiple mainstream media outlets since the beginning of the new coronavirus outbreak. In fact, they’ve gone as far as labelling the suggestion that vitamin C could help, as ‘fake news’ in some cases.”

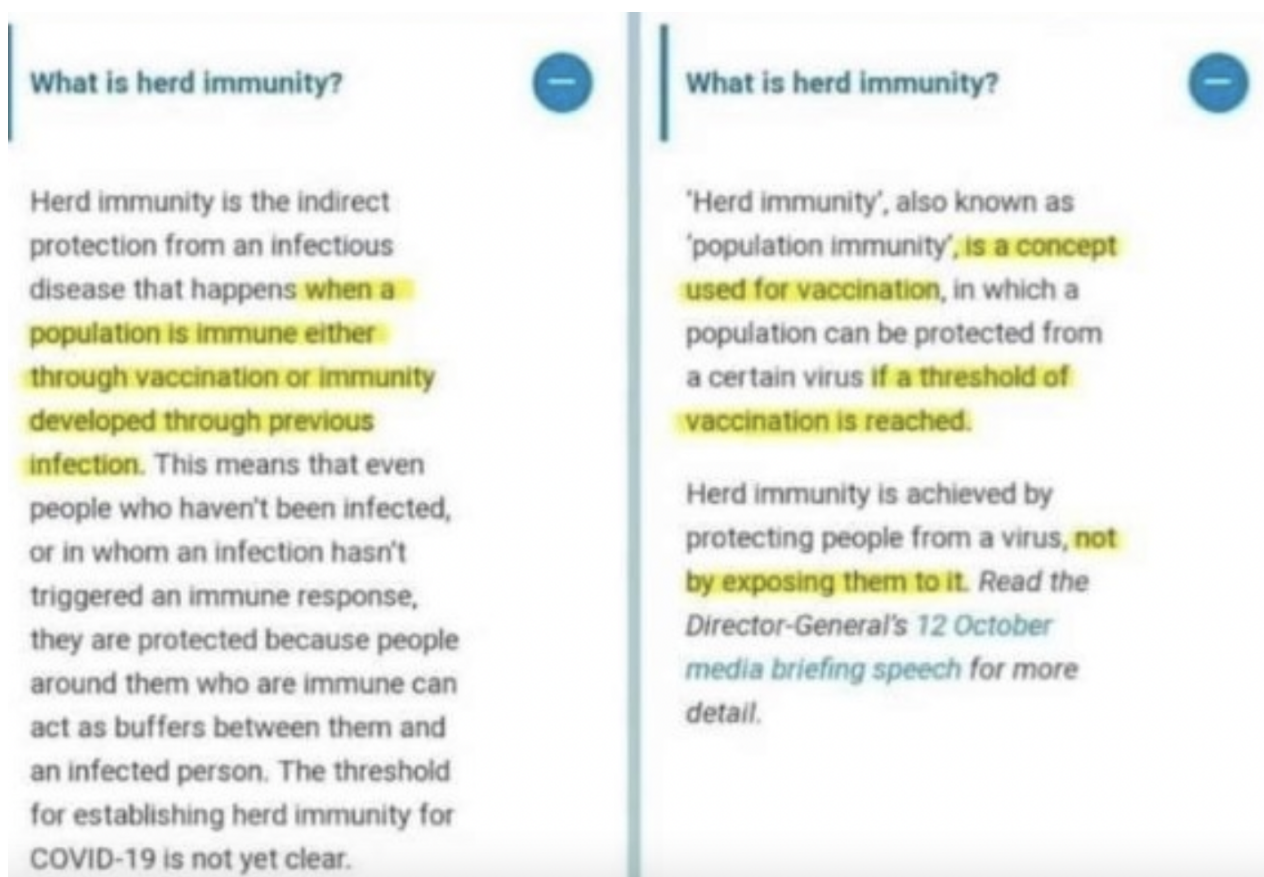

Richard Z. Cheng, MD, PhD, a Chinese physician who has had remarkable results treating Covid-19 with intravenous Vitamin C, has had his Youtube Channel censored, also Facebook. He writes:

"I was made aware that FB Fact Check claims "Shanghai did not officially recommend high-dose IVC for the treatment of Covid-19". Let me make it clear that not only Shanghai, but also Guangzhou, Guangdong Province, another major city in China, publicly endorsed high-dose IVC for the treatment of Covid-19. Those who does Fact Check, please be more careful."

It seems that medical researchers and Public Health officials in China are much less corrupted by Pharma than their counterparts in the US.

The WHO recently took its war on the immune system to new heights. Jeffrey A. Tucker of the American Institute for Economic Research recently discovered that the WHO has altered its website's explanation of "Herd Immunity" to airbrush out the role that natural exposure to microbes plays in achieving this protection.

Where several months earlier the WHO's webpage had said that herd immunity was achievable either by natural exposure to a microbe or by vaccination, their new revised page insists that herd immunity requires vaccination. "Herd immunity is achieved by protecting people from a virus, not by exposing them to it," says the Pharma and Gates-funded WHO.

Tucker points out that "In effect, this change at WHO ignores and even wipes out 100 years of medical advances in virology, immunology, and epidemiology. It is thoroughly unscientific – shilling for the vaccine industry in exactly the way the conspiracy theorists say that WHO has been doing since the beginning of this pandemic."

The people who are dying "from" Covid are the ones whose immune systems are weakened by diabetes, heart and lung diseases, obesity, cancer, toxic medicines and old age as well as nutrient deficiency. (That's not counting the legions of motorcycle accident victims, heart attack victims, flu, cancer and trauma victims who are being branded "Covid" on their death certificates to boost the death count and swell hospitals' coffers with the Covid bonus payment that the US government gives them — those are a different story.)

Studies have found that most Covid-19-positive people who actually get symptoms (most have no symptoms) are deficient in Vitamin D. Other studies have shown that people with ample Vitamin D are much less likely to test positive. Coincidence?

And the naturally derived medicine hydroxychloroquine (HCQ), combined with zinc, has been shown in numerous studies to help the immune system cure Covid-19 in its early stages. But it's been banned in many countries because the Pharma-Med-WHO-CDC establishment hate it, because it's cheap, natural (from quinine) and its patent expired many years ago, so there's no profit in it. Ivermectin is the same story. Cheap, naturally derived, and it works. Of course, the Covid promoters don't want a cure, because a cure would make the vaccine unnecessary, and they are absolutely determined to inject everyone with their dubious vaccines, for motives about which one can only speculate.

Instead of these facts, we get "fact checker" websites, run and funded by the Pharma Disinformation Complex (media, pharma, NGOs, globalists), that tell us that vitamins and your immune system will not help you fight Covid, and that people that claim they will help are providing "medical misinformation." And we get outright censorship of pro-vitamin facts from the media: Facebook, Twitter, Google and many other popular websites and media outlets.

If our governments were not saturated with corruption, they would be dispensing Vitamins, C, D, A, essential minerals and HCQ to our malnourished public for free, not tyrannically locking people in their homes, quarantining them, thus depriving them of Vitamin D from sunlight, exercise, and effectively motivating them to eat Spam and potato chips instead of fresh, healthy food. It's crystal clear that they don't want the public to be healthy, there's no profit in that for their paymasters.

Instead, governments give billions of taxpayer dollars to the drug companies to develop vaccines, even though Pharma is the most profitable industry on earth and its companies can well afford to spend their own money on R&D.

Nutrient denial is not Pharma-Med's only assault on the Immune System. Antibiotics, chemotherapy, antivirals, radiation, vaccines — the most used "remedies" in the Pharma-Med toolbox — have all been implicated in immune system damage and death.

Pharma and their media and government accomplices mass produce stress and depression in the public with their relentless scaremongering about the latest "deadly virus," and these are very powerful immune system depressors. Face masks deprive you of oxygen which damages immunity as well as causing brain damage. Depression, lack of exercise, lack of sunlight, lack of human contact caused by Covid lockdowns, all damage immunity.

Back in 1984, Pharma-friendly scientists claimed there was a new virus that destroyed the immune system. Although never proven, and fiercely rebutted by many distinguished scientists, the HIV causes AIDS theory became accepted fact through sheer repetition by the terror-mongering media, and by the fact that drug companies knew that it would be a money tree for them, and researchers understood the reality that they would be blacklisted if they dissented. Much as with today's Covid narrative, one of the main promoters of the idea was Anthony Fauci, and one of its main funders over the years has been Bill Gates.

To treat a virus that was hypothesized to destroy the immune system, they prescribed toxic drugs that were well known to destroy the immune system, such as AZT. And when the person died, they blamed the virus.

Would it be presumptuous to suggest that the virus that destroys the immune system is none other than the Pharma-Med-Media-Government complex itself?

Now the elitists are busily developing "immunity passports" to enable people to freely travel and shop. But these passports, as planned, will not confirm that you have a strong natural immune system and thus are in no danger of getting infected or infecting others. They will not confirm that you've had Covid already, or a related coronavirus, and thus are protected by natural immunity that's generally far superior to vaccine immunity.

They will only confirm that you've been vaccinated with vaccines that, by the manufacturers' own admissions, have not been proven to effectively prevent infection, nor to make a person non-contagious. And they want to make these passports a prerequisite to travel or to attend concerts or sporting events, even to be able to enter a supermarket.

These are the actions of a cabal that view the immune system as their competition. And how does a business deal with its competition? They try to put it out of business. Which seems to be exactly what the Pharma folks are doing.

But, looking at it from their point of view, one can sort of understand their position. Why should people have natural immunity for free when they can pay Big Pharma for it? It's not right. Pharma must be paid. After all, they are the saviors of humanity according to their PR agencies.

People like me, who never get sick during "flu season", even though we have never taken flu vaccines, are just crazy to suggest that our strong nutrient intakes and avoidance of vaccines and toxic medicines have anything to do with that.

So, I hope this will become a meme, because, although it's obvious, I've never seen it stated so plainly: Big Pharma and the Medical Establishment regard the human Immune System as their competition.
