

Property “Personal”: “Freedom and Personal Property Lost in the last 2 1/2 Years”

Recently, a Swiss online paper has asked an interesting question: “What do we consider and how would we describe “property” on a personal basis?” This is my response.

“Belief in a bigger and better future is one of the most powerful enemies of present freedom.” – Aldous Huxley, author of the 1932 novel Brave New World, now considered visionary.

The question of what is property and what is possession arises for me from a philosophical-human analysis. It shows that property is closely connected with freedom. So, it is intimately linked with “today”, the time in which every day more of our freedom – and by association – of our personal property, is taken away.

To start with, let’s separate “property” from “possession”. Possession is what one appropriates: house, car, bicycle, television, etc.

Property is what we are born with. Namely, our body; our freedom; free thought, free written, oral expression; to move freely – and the right to have a say in government, to participate actively in a democracy, or at least in what we now call “democracy”.

One of the most important properties I have, if not the most important one, is my body. This means that I can decide about my body, that I can decide about what to do for my health.

It is also important to be able to decide about our individual incomes, our individual money. This supposes cash. No digital money that is controlled by the banks, the authorities; and, depending on our behavior, can be blocked or even expropriated. What I create is my property – which I may freely share, if I so decide – not the government or another “superior” authority.

Digitalization is based on linear thinking. But life is not linear, it is dynamic. A digital world is an unnatural world. It destroys our property to be able to lead a dynamic life.

Introducing digital money is outright criminal.

Total digitalization, as envisaged by the “Great Reset”, the UN Agenda 2030, and the World Economic Forum’s (WEF) “Fourth Industrial Revolution”, is mankind’s demise. Hardly anyone, who can see the consequences, desires an electronic world. Although, younger generations, brainwashed by the mainstream media 24/7, still embrace the short-sighted convenience of a digital world. We have to shake them awake.

We must also vehemently oppose the very Engine of Digitization – the ultra-short waves 5G. Lest we will lose personal and social property through total surveillance.

The ultra-shortwave, 5G – and soon 6G – drives the 4th Industrial Revolution. It is also destroying our physical and spiritual health. The around-the-globe bought governments of the entire 193 UN member countries are watching, as we humans are destroyed. With deliberate lies and brain manipulation, our property, our lives, our humanity is being transformed into transhumanity.

How much longer will it take, until a majority will wake up and scream STOP, and act to save our humanity, our lives, our most valuable property? Our sovereign selves.

Freedom and personal property have been largely lost in the last 2 1/2 years. If not yet completely, all roads point in that direction – for a dictatorial world government, with censorship, digital surveillance, an all-encompassing digital identity. We must and we shall STOP it.

What we are facing, if we as people worldwide do not join hands in solidarity and spirituality to avoid over the next eight years – UN Agenda 2030 – the incorporation into a totally digital world order planned by a small global financial elite, we will soon find ourselves without individual, social, political, cultural sovereignty and autonomy.

This would be the fulfillment of the “Great Reset.” Human individuals would be transformed into a chipped transhuman society where no one owns anything – physically or spiritually – and all think robotically, are controlled by algorithms – but are happy.

We are threatened with complete deprivation of freedom, of our personal property. This is what is coming to us, if we do not wake up from our comfort slumber, and in solidarity and spiritually, without hatred – but always accompanied by The Light, free ourselves from this diabolical cult, to regain our personal property, our absolute human freedom, with which we were all born.

It may require creating life in a new parallel society.

It takes courage to begin.

We can do it. Once begun, with our positive spirit and vision – human and societal dynamics may lead our way.

We are many – “they” are few.

“They” have money and capital. We have an absolute solidarity and willpower to regain our freedom, our bodily and spiritual property.
