European Union Committee Wants to Demolish Existing Law Allowing Member States to Ban GMOs

By Christina Sarich, October 15 2015

Stating a concern that the proposed law would lead to the reintroduction of border controls between GM and non-GMO-growing countries, the European Parliament news service reported that Members of the Environment Committee shot down a draft EU law that would allow member states to restrict or prohibit sales of genetically modified crops.

The Tyranny of Virtue? France, Universal Jurisdiction and Syria's "Assad's Regime"

By Binoy Kampmark, October 15 2015

Universal jurisdiction is one of those legal beasts that frightens as much as it excites. The debate about such jurisdiction, which enables prosecutors from one state to effectively prosecute war crimes or crimes against humanity committed in another state is a highly contentious one.

Lifting the 24 Hour Siege: Julian Assange, London's Metropolitan Police and Continued Detention

By Binoy Kampmark, October 15 2015

While things tend to get murky, sometimes by design, regarding the police presence outside the Ecuadorean embassy in London, the announcement that the city's Metropolitan Police would be lifting their twenty-four hour surveillance did surprise some.

EU Cannot Go On Fighting Russia, "We can not have our relationship towards Russia dictated by Washington" EU Commission President

By Russia Insider, October 14 2015

Huge reversal: the EU seeks a normal relationship with Russia. It seems that the EU is being greatly affected by the actions of Vladimir Putin in Syria: suddenly the EU President Jean-Claude Juncker is saying that the EU must not let the US dictate their relationship with Russia. He has demanded a normalization of relations – and indirectly, the end of sanctions.
