Dear Readers,

The summer months have marked some important changes at Global Research as we continue to grow and develop our projects. Thanks to the ongoing support of our readers, Global Research has become one of the main alternative news sources in North America.

We have added a new DVD to our online store, and will be gradually adding other book and film titles over the coming months. These comprehensive multi-media materials complement our growing database of online articles and are available for shipment worldwide.

In addition, several not-to-be missed conferences by leading scholars and analysts are being organized, and further information on these events will be made available through the Global Research website. Based on popular demand, we will be arranging video coverage of these lectures so that the broader public can benefit from them.

Other exciting projects are in the works, and we will keep you updated on all the latest news and initiatives by Global Research. In the meanwhile, you can continue to count on the cutting-edge research and news coverage you have come to expect, and we invite you to subscribe to our free newsletter if you have not already done so.

In these turbulent times, we believe in using every possible means to bring accurate and timely information to our readers. With increased global militarization and financial instability, it is more important than ever to have a reliable news source that delivers the critical analysis that is ignored or manipulated by mainstream media. We are committed to curbing the tide of disinformation and stimulating public engagement and understanding through our activities.

We remind you that Global Research operates exclusively through the support of its readers, and does not accept funding from public or private sources. We operate on a shoestring budget in order to maintain our independence. Therefore, please consider making a contribution to Global Research through a membership or a donation of your choice.
