

Top 10 Bogus ISIS Stories

By Adam Johnson

Global Research, February 25, 2015

FAIR 20 February 2015

Region: Middle East & North Africa

Theme: Media Disinformation

ISIS's violent bona fides are not in doubt to anyone paying attention. They've targeted religious minorities, beheaded aid workers, sold women into sex slavery and have been all-around devastating for those under their rule. But as America debates the possibility of a full-scale ground invasion of ISIS-controlled territory, it's important to note that much of the ISIS threat — namely that which targets the West — has been habitually overstated by an uncritical media.

In no particular order, here are the ten most bogus ISIS scare stories over the past year:

1. Female genital mutilation edict – July 2014

WORLD IRAQ

UN: ISIS Orders Women and Girls in Mosul to Undergo Genital Mutilation

Noah Rayman
@noahrayman
July 24, 2014

Who it fooled: Most major media outlets from Time to Reuters to The Atlantic to the BBC (whose story has since been scrubbed online). Above all, the UN itself.

Why it's bogus: Actual residents of Mosul and regional experts quickly knew it reeked. The story was subsequently discredited by experts and journalists and called a hoax soon after.

2. Church-burning in Mosul – July 2014

Who it fooled: Human Rights Watch, The Atlantic, The Independent, The Times of India

Why it's bogus: An intrepid archaeologist, Sam Hardy, called BS and thanks to the magic of reverse image Google search and some prodding by yours truly, it was eventually retracted by several outlets and never mentioned again.

3. ISIS in Mexico – October 2014

Report: 4 ISIS Terrorists Caught at Southern Border in 36 Hrs

f share this

✉ email

Who it fooled: Fox News, Judicial Watch, The Inquisitr .

Why it's bogus: Absurd on its face, the story was quickly and roundly debunked.

4. ISIS recruiting emo British teen – December 2014

Is this boy the latest Briton to join ISIS?

Nicholas Reilly for Metro.co.uk Friday 26 Dec 2014 7:01 pm

4k

Who it fooled: Metro, The Daily Mail, The Telegraph

Why it's bogus: The person who uploaded the picture admitted on Twitter it was a fake. The media subsequently deemed it a "hoax".

5. ISIS Caliphate map - July 2014

See the Terrifying ISIS Map Showing Its 5-Year Expansion Plan

Jul 3, 2014, 10:50 AM ET

By COLLEEN CURRY

 Like  share  Tweet 643  +1 128  723 Comments

Who it fooled: ABC News, International Business Times, Breitbart

Why it's bogus: The original story from ABC News cited a map that had been floating around the Internet for months. To this day, its one and only source is a tweet from a noted white supremacist website Third Position.

io9.com and others eventually deemed it a hoax.

6. ISIS beheads Christian children – Aug 2014

Who it fooled: Originally asserted on CNN by self-proclaimed Iraqi-Christian activist Mark Arabo—a grocery store industry lobbyist whose previous media appearance was on a local

San Diego news channel to oppose an increase in minimum wage–this story spread among right-wing and Christian media.

Why it's bogus: After a fairly thorough inquiry, snopes eventually determined the claim was “inconclusive,” having found no independent evidence it occurred.

7. $425m bank robbery – June 2014

The screenshot shows the top portion of a news article on The Washington Post website. The page header includes the site's logo, a search bar, and a 'Sign' button. Below the header, the article is categorized under 'Morning Mix'. The main headline reads: 'ISIS just stole $425 million, Iraqi governor says, and became the 'world's richest terrorist group''. Below the headline are social media sharing icons for Facebook, Twitter, Google+, Email, and a generic share button. To the right of these icons is a Capital One Bank advertisement. Further right are icons for text size, print, and a comment bubble. The byline identifies the author as Terrence McCoy, dated June 12, 2014, with a 'Follow @terrence_mccoy' button. On the right side of the article preview, there is a 'Get Morning Mix' section with the text 'Daily updates delivered just for you.' and a blue button.

Who it fooled: The Washington Post, International Business Times, Fox News, Mic, Vocativ

Why it's bogus: The story was based solely on accounts from the former mayor of Mosul and was later found to be incredible by The Financial Times and, ultimately, US officials themselves.

8. 'Over 100 Americans have joined ISIS' – October 2014

The CIA estimates there are about 15,000 militants from 80 countries in Iraq and Syria. Tunisia, Saudi Arabia and Jordan have each seen more than 2,000 people leave for the battlefield. More than 100 fighters have arrived from the U.S.

countries," Blake said, adding that roughly 2,000 of those fighters hail from Western countries – including "at least 500 from the U.K, 700 from France, 400 from Germany, and more than 100 Americans [who] have traveled, or tried to travel into Syria."

Abusalha is counted among the 100 or so Americans who have traveled to Syria or attempted to do so, a figure cited repeatedly by senior U.S. officials in ways that suggest there is precision in their understanding of who and where those people are.

Who it fooled: NBC News, Washington Post, Al Jazeera

Around 12 Americans Are Fighting in Syria, Not 100: FBI Director

Sept 26 2014

Why it's bogus: After the FBI admitted there were only "about a dozen" Americans fighting alongside jihadists in Syria in September 2014, several media outlets continued to report "over 100," despite the government correcting the record several weeks prior.

9. #AllEyesOnISIS “Twitter storm” – June 2014

Who it fooled: The Daily Mail, McClatchy

Why it's bogus: Yours truly showed that the “Twitter storm” was simply a reposting of weeks- or months-old tweets by an overzealous ISIS fanboi.

10. ISIS's ebola terror plot – December 2014

Who it fooled: The Daily Mail, Fox News, Mashable, random right-wing media

Why it's bogus: "Iraqi media" was the only source for the story, and the Iraqi minister of Health quickly debunked it.

Adam Johnson is a freelance journalist; formerly he was a founder of the hardware startup Brightbox. You can follow him on Twitter at @adamjohnsonnyc. A version of this post appeared on his blog Citations Needed (2/20/15).

The original source of this article is FAIR
Copyright © Adam Johnson, FAIR, 2015

Comment on Global Research Articles on our Facebook page

Become a Member of Global Research

Articles by: Adam Johnson

Disclaimer: The contents of this article are of sole responsibility of the author(s). The Centre for Research on Globalization will not be responsible for any inaccurate or incorrect statement in this article. The Centre of Research on Globalization grants permission to cross-post Global Research articles on community internet sites as long the source and copyright are acknowledged together with a hyperlink to the original Global Research article. For publication of Global Research articles in print or other forms including commercial internet sites, contact: publications@globalresearch.ca www.globalresearch.ca contains copyrighted material the use of which has not always been specifically authorized by the copyright owner. We are making such material available to our readers under the provisions of "fair use" in an effort to advance a better understanding of political, economic and social issues. The material on this site is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving it for research and educational purposes. If you wish to use copyrighted material for purposes other than "fair use" you must request permission from the copyright owner.

For media inquiries: publications@globalresearch.ca