This video first published in May 2019 brings to the forefront an incisive and carefully documented understanding of the current corona crisis and its aftermath in the wake of the lockdown.

UN Agenda 21/Sustainable Development is the action plan implemented worldwide to inventory and control all land, all water, all minerals, all plants, all animals, all construction, all means of production, all energy, all education, all information, and all human beings in the world. INVENTORY AND CONTROL.

It is a plan that was agreed to by 179 nations back in 1992, it's the United Nations plan called the Agenda for the 21st century.

It is about moving populations into concentrated city centers and clearing them out of rural areas.
