PROGRAMME DETAILS

Date: NOVEMBER 24, 2008 (11 AM - 1.00 PM, Central Time)

This Week's Guests: F. William Engdahl and Mark Crispin Miller

Host: Stephen Lendman

F. William Engdahl is a leading researcher, economist and analyst of the New World Order. He's written extensively about energy, politics, economics and more for over 30 years, and is a distinguished Research Associate of the Centre for Research on Globalization.

He's also written two must-read books: "A Century of War" on oil and geopolitics and his newest titled "Seeds of Destruction" on how agribusiness giants plan world domination by patenting all life forms to force-feed GMO foods on everyone. Engdahl has a new book to be released in 2009: "Power of Money - The Rise and Decline of the American Century."

He has also written extensively on the current financial crisis. That topic will be discussed on the program.

Mark Crispin Miller is a noted media analyst, social critic, and writer on modern propaganda, history and tactics of advertising, American film, and media ownership. He's also Professor of Media Ecology (studies in communication) at New York University's Steinhardt School of Culture, Education, and Human Development.

He's written numerous books, including two related to today's program. "Fooled Again" on how the right stole the 2004 election and the need for electoral reform, and "Loser Take All: Election Fraud and the Subversion of Democracy."

Discussion will focus on the just-concluded election and the challenges for Obama in 2009.
